

When a customer disputes a charge with their bank, the bank tells us through the payment processor. Do not contact the bank. Gather the order record, the delivery confirmation and any ticket history, and send them to billing@ within 5 business days.

If the customer contacts us after filing a dispute, we cannot also issue a refund: the bank's decision settles it. Explain this politely.

Chargeback fees ($15 per dispute) are charged to us by the processor, not to the customer. Never pass this fee on to a customer and never offer to reimburse a customer for a bank fee they were charged.
